Foreward

Guided by the Hand of God, the universe moves in faultless agreement, in unconfused motion. As all creation is sustained in harmonious patterns of existence, all things have a place. We have patterns of our own which form human mosaics, portraying our dreams and aspirations as we strive to attain them. Our patterns are the routines of the home, the cadences of music, the formulas of mathematics, and the voices of conscience. Their number is infinite. They are patterns of living.

The individual attains his greatest value in the fulfillment of the potential which he is given, and perhaps the greatest accomplishments we may attain are those which contribute to our progress, or aid that of others, towards this end.

This is the purpose of education: to acknowledge these potentialities in whomever they are found and to assist in their realization, encouraging the individual to assume his position in the cultural patterns of our society. It is the duty of education to foster a trusting faith in the student, and to fashion, through him, a fitting society reflecting the universal ideals we cherish.

ENGLISH

Through the magical aura of words men have moved nations and have touched the hearts of millions. Writers have portrayed the music of words in poetry and have expressed their knowledge, opinions, and ideas through the written and spoken word. With language they have shared their culture and have partaken of the wisdom of others.

Our culture is rich and unique in itself; and with our maturity as a social being, we appreciate our mode of expression, the English language. A proficient knowledge of our own language is necessary if we hope to express ourselves adequately or to understand the ideas and thoughts of others. As language is basic to the acquisition of further knowledge, we must use our own in fulfilling our aspirations and in sharing the cultural patterns of others.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

Through the ages constructive endeavors of all kinds have reflected the genius of man's mind. These efforts of intellect and industry have accented the individual and his creativity. They have reflected the ingenuity and talents of entire civilizations. More than this, they have sheltered his family, erected his monuments, and built his churches. What has been blueprinted in the mind men have made reality.

Whatever has been fashioned, whether aesthetic or practical, has been accomplished through the combined energy of two capacities, mental and manual ambition. Through these two outlets we formulate the basic material patterns of our daily lives.

HOME ECONOMICS

Perhaps one of the most influential elements of society today is the home. From the simple patterns of everyday place settings to the more complex problems of child training, the home is significant in moulding character and developing positive social values. The resources of the home are those which are tapped for both physical and spiritual sustenance.

Assuming a vital position is today's society, the atmosphere of the home plays an ever-increasing role in the fashioning of conscientious citizens for tomorrow.

MATHEMATICS

Through the patterns of scientific investigation, similar procedures and methods are invariably employed in diverse areas of inquiry; but perhaps the greatest benefit in procedure is derived from the application of one singular tool, mathematics. Through mathematics man has found the potential to explicate untold mysteries and to equate solutions for diversified problems with a scientific language that is universal.

In no other manner are we able to express relationship or formulate laws of nature as we are through the logic of numbers. In creation an infinite number of patterns exist, and only with a knowledge of mathematics will we be able to comprehend them and employ them for mutual benefit.

SCIENCE

Throughout history man has been occupied in satisfying his desire for knowledge. Through the addition of new perspectives in inquiry and the opening of new roads to progress, his probing into the mysteries of the universe has grown progressively complex and specialized. These perspectives are comprised in part by the physical sciences. Embodying various relationships and processes, the patterns in nature employ the formulas, methods, and laws which we understand to be expressive of life and the world.

BUSINESS EDUCATION

The forces of the modern economic system have become an influential element in society today. In many ways the progression of our nation is dependent on commercial and economic prosperity. Our standard of living is largely dependent upon what the business world can do for the individual; and, in moving in this direction, industry and services need ready hands skilled in office and clerical procedures.

An advancing civilization demands more and more from its people in the field of business, and the world can progress only at a pace determined by efficient administrative patterns in commercial enterprises.

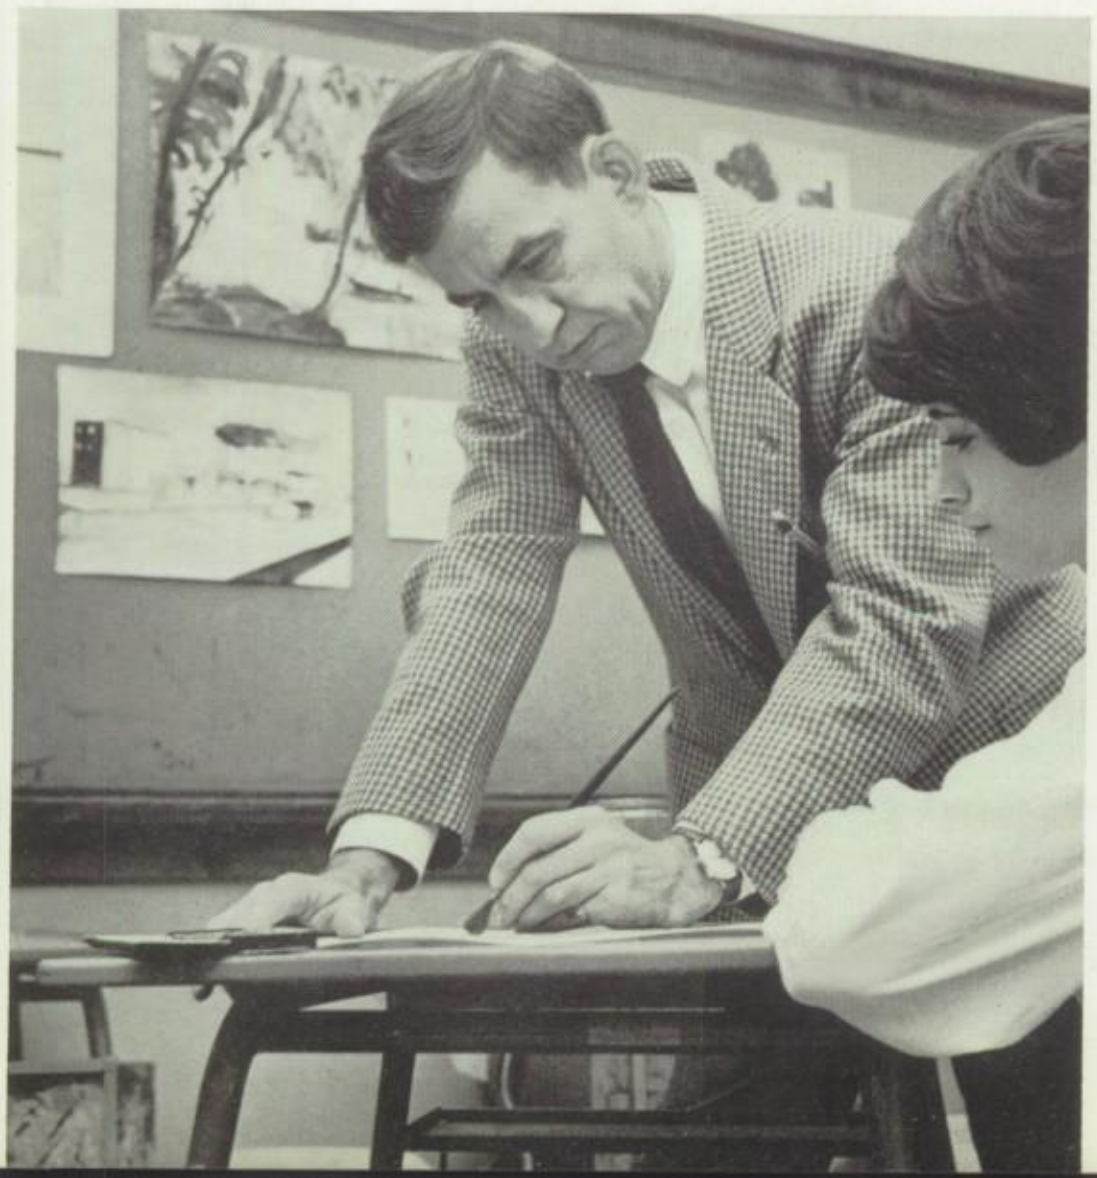
MUSIC

Music has long been regarded with aesthetic interest and appreciation throughout the world. The patterns in music — rhythm, mood, and the pleasing arrangement of sounds, have long carried with them distinct cultures and traditions. Music includes the rich heritage of sounds shared by all the world — the brilliance of a Beethoven or a Bach. Music, in a sense, is beauty, an inspirational outlet for man's spiritual nature. Truly, it has added enjoyment and enrichment to the lives of all men.



ART

Man has been engaged in artistic expression of some sort as far back as history can record. Through art man has found a worthy outlet for his feelings and ideas. He has created monumental and beautiful edifices to enshrine his deepest emotions and religious convictions. He has painted his passions on glowing canvases, using various patterns of shades and colors, and has carved marble into flawless forms that have survived for centuries. Certainly, art is expressive of culture in its many patterns.

MR. CIESLIK

MR. GIFFORD

SOCIAL SCIENCE

The study of man's past, with his triumphs and defeats, hopes and despairs, is history. It reconciles man with his past and provides guidelines for his future. It sustains and instructs, admonishes and encourages. It links all men together, man to man, nation to nation, in the web of human experience; for history belongs to all men and encompasses all knowledge. Through history the experiences of the philosopher, the statesman, and the general are united with ours; and they become our own. It forms the foundation on which we visualize the patterns of the future through those of the past.

FOREIGN LANGUAGE

In the ever-changing orb that is our modern world, an understanding of other peoples and other nations is of increasing importance. We no longer live solely in a nation of Americans; but, in a broader sense, we live also in a world of many different peoples, each with their own distinct customs and beliefs. If we are to live with them, we must first endeavor to understand them. Basic to this understanding is a knowledge of their language. Thus it is that foreign language becomes but another phase in the many and diversified patterns that make up our intricate lives today.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Efficiency or success in varied areas of endeavor are frequently related to the functions of the physique, for it is through the systems of the body that the very processes of life are sustained. These intricate systems have functioned in the extremes of environment and have endured stress and hardship, adjusting to changeable patterns of living.

The world itself is open to our understanding only when channeled through the networks of our physical nature. Since vitality of the mind is derived from health of the body, our highest degrees of perception, thought, and response are dependent on its capabilities.

OFFICE STAFF

To promote efficiency in a complex educational institution, responsibility must at times be delegated to others. In our educational system various levels of authority and responsibility exist, each encircling and facilitating the work of the others. Out of necessity the functions of the administration, faculty, and student body must be co-ordinated to fulfill the objectives of education.

To satisfy this need for co-operation in education today, an office staff is maintained whose task it is to unite and efficiently aid the efforts of all concerned.

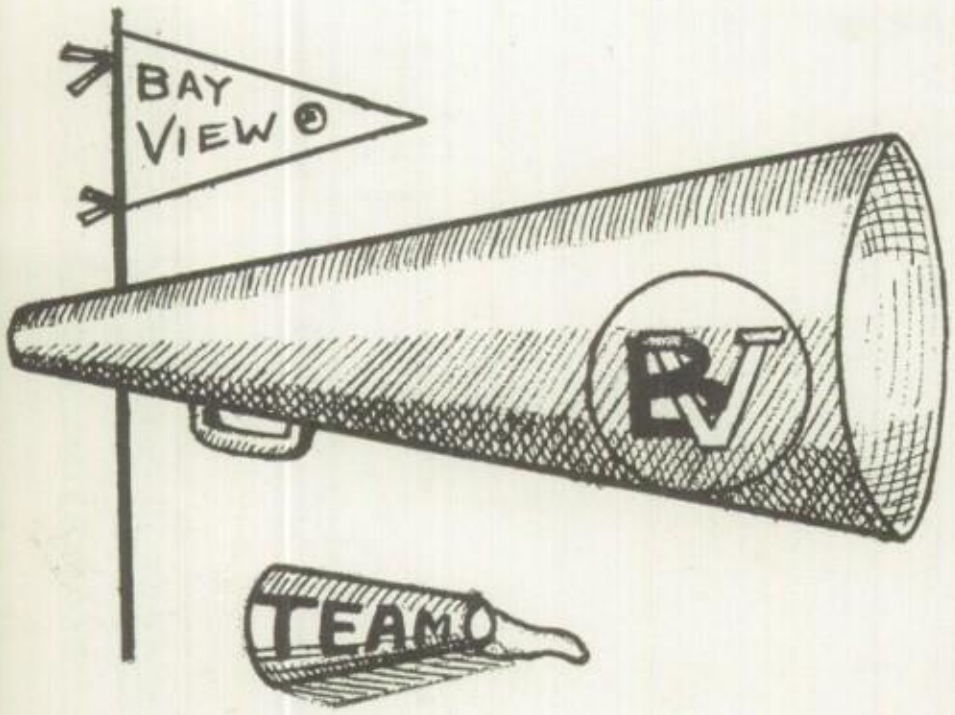
Activities



Scholastic accomplishment is only a portion of the educational progress that is attainable. To be truly educated, one must be equipped to meet life on many levels under different conditions. Extra curricular activities, then, become a vital supplement to academic education in adapting the individual to a complex society.

These activities offer today a wide scope of opportunity catering to the recreational, vocational, or aesthetic desires of the participant. By channeling youthful enthusiasm into profitable ventures, such activities are frequently instrumental in developing or influencing life patterns. Their objective is to tap any reservoirs of individual talent left untouched by academic education.

QUILL AND SCROLL . . . A Tribute For Merit

Journalism at Bay View is represented in three branches of school activity: the Oracle Newspaper, the Oracle Annual, and the Business Staff. Participation in these areas provides the student with experience in professional journalism while contributing to one of the most satisfying and beneficial organizations at Bay View—publications.

Publications contributes immeasurably to the spirit of the school and of all those associated with it: faculty, alumni, student body. Through an imaginative and comprehensive newspaper and yearbook, the Bay View community is provided with periodic and annual coverage of school activities. Management of the financial enterprises is the responsibility of the business staff, whose work in advertising, circulation, and subscription involves both publications.

Too frequently taken for granted, each publication accounts for many hours of exacting work and sacrifice in all of the contributing aspects of production. Whatever the work, whether layout, typing, proofreading, reporting, or photography, consideration must be given not only to quality but to a demanding schedule which commands constant attention. From the first stroke of the pen to the last snap of the camera, publication activities encourage much original expression and creativity through conscientious effort.

Thus it is that every year, those students who have particularly distinguished themselves in some phase of journalism are presented with the Quill and Scroll Award. This award includes membership in an international journalistic society and pays tribute to individual effort and achievement in the ever-expanding world of journalism.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT ASSOCIATION . . .

NEW COMMITTEE CHAIRMEN

Bay View's Student Government Association has once again completed an active and progressive year. During the 1964-65 term, S.G.A. has continued to function as a training ground for young citizens and responsible leaders. Through the Student Board, Student Court, the Assembly, and the many standing and special committees, Bay View students were given the opportunity to shoulder responsibilities and accept challenges.

For many Viewites the most exciting events of this past school year were the Homecoming Car Parade and the Homecoming Dance. Over seventy colorfully decorated cars, filled with spirited Bay View High students, participated in the parade. "Pigskin Pair-off" added finishing touches to a school-spirited homecoming weekend.

Builds Foundations In Leadership

During the past year Victory Flag Committee was successful in obtaining a new Victory Flag for Bay View High. With the help of several creative students, over twenty designs were submitted to the committee for consideration. After an all-school vote was taken, a final design was chosen as the pattern for our new Victory Flag.

A Constitution Revision Committee was active this past year with the aim of up-dating the existing constitution. The committee suggested revisions for the nomination and election procedures. These procedures were the two major areas of revision, but many other changes were also made.

These projects undertaken by this year's Student Government Association helped reflect, in part, the progressive attitude and responsible spirit of the Bay View High School student body.

A Letter From Maria

It was just a letter which I received by the mail that opened the door to a wonderful year that I would live in the United States. On that date the name Bay View didn't mean too much to me. I didn't know anything about it, just that it would be the school which I would attend during the next year.

Now, it has been nine months since the first time I came into Bay View, nine months of happiness; and through them I have learned many new things.

I will never forget my first day, when I tried to express my feelings to all of the students who were in the auditorium for the first assembly. But the words didn't come out. I couldn't find a way to express my gratitude to them for making possible this marvelous opportunity that never would have been possible without their interest.

Later I came to know more about the school and its different clubs and activities. Now that Bay View is part of my life, it will always have a special meaning in my heart.

After I graduate from college, if everything goes as I expect, I hope I will be able to return to the United States and see again the school and all my friends. But for now, I can only say thanks for all you have done.

I will never forget you, Bay View, because you are to me the symbol of learning, friendliness, and happiness.

Girls' Club holds broomstick convention

GIRLS' CLUB

As another school year draws to a close, there are many Bay View girls who can look back and contemplate the good times they have had at the Girls' Club meetings this past year. Whether they took part in one or more of the programs or were part of the audience, all of the girls had many enjoyable moments.

During the first semester Girls' Club sponsored its annual Thanksgiving Day Canned Food Drive. With this years theme, "Cans That Care," running through their heads, many girls worked hard to make the drive a near success.

Many members participated in the annual Talent Show, and later in the year the girls in each grade level joined forces to present a skit in competition with each other.

The Spring Style Show was a hit with all the girls. The bright Easter fashions and other summer apparel brought pleasant finishing touches to a long, cold winter.

From the party for the incoming sophomores to the Senior Farewell Program, this past year has been an active one for many Bay View girls.

A truly comprehensive activity and educational club at Bay View is Science Club. Its members pursue interests ranging from photography and chemistry to amateur radio operations, a common interest in fundamental science, and an inclination towards specialized areas, which are developed in depth in their respective subgroups: Biology, Chemistry, Physics, Photography, Rod and Gun, and Amateur Radio.

Judging from the rapid strides in progress taken by modern man in explaining and adapting the laws of this world to his mastery, science offers some of the most intriguing, challenging, and promising opportunities for all today. Projecting itself into the world of the future, Science Club seeks to grasp the contemporary discoveries of modern science. The hope of Science Club is that it may realize for its members and the world the marvelous phophetic promises of science for a better life.

The bustling Home Economics Club, an ambitious asset to the Home Economics Department, is divided into several subgroups. One of these subgroups is Future Nurses. Members of this activity visit various nursing schools in addition to performing their duties in the school infirmary service. The Costume Crew takes out time from its busy schedule of sewing for Bay View performances to construct dolls for Milwaukee Children's Hospital. Members of Food Festivities, another division of the Home Economics Club, serve at various school functions, such as the prom, senior dance, and Foreign Language Club Banquet. Working closely with the Home Economics Department, the Home Economics Club attempts to help each girl fulfill her highest aspirations as a future homemaker.

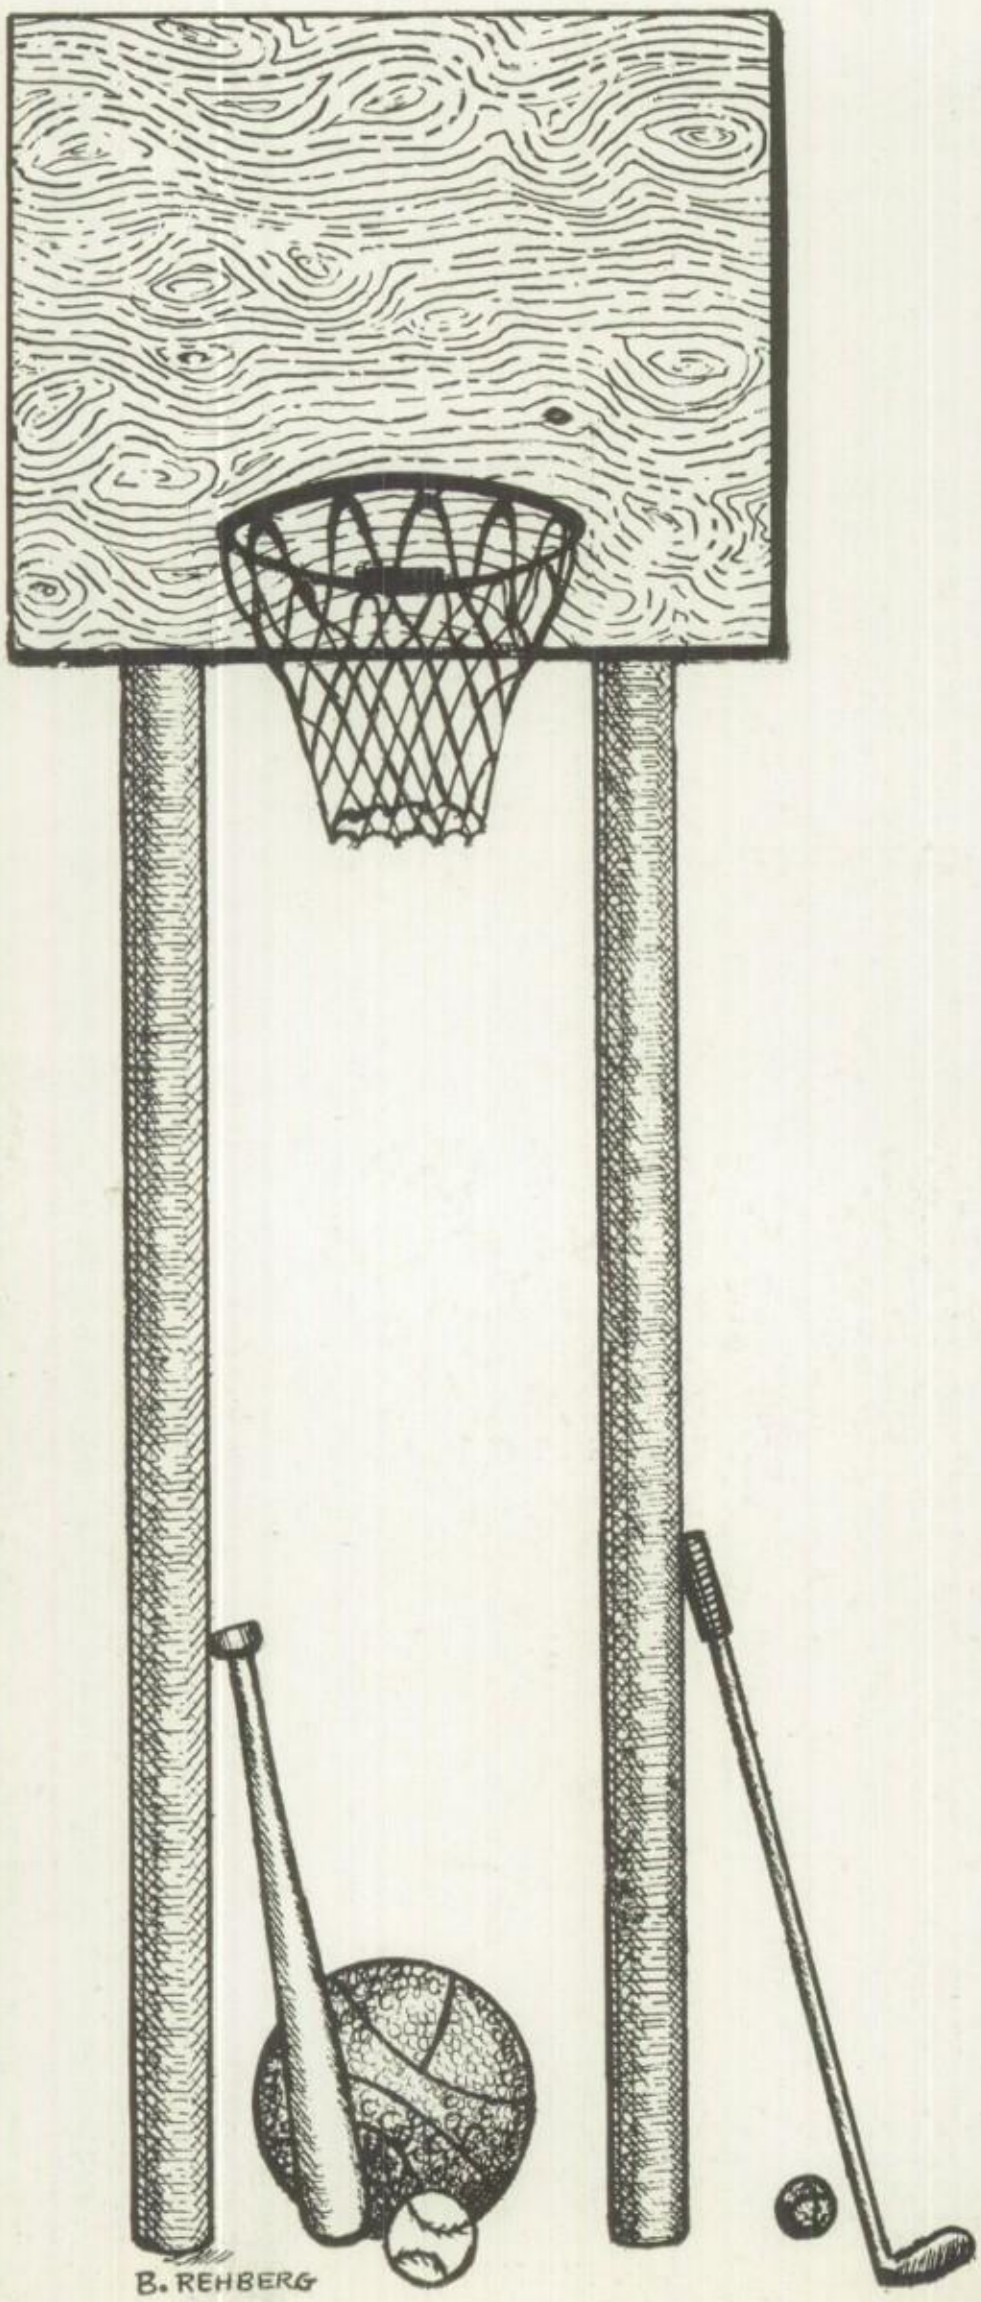
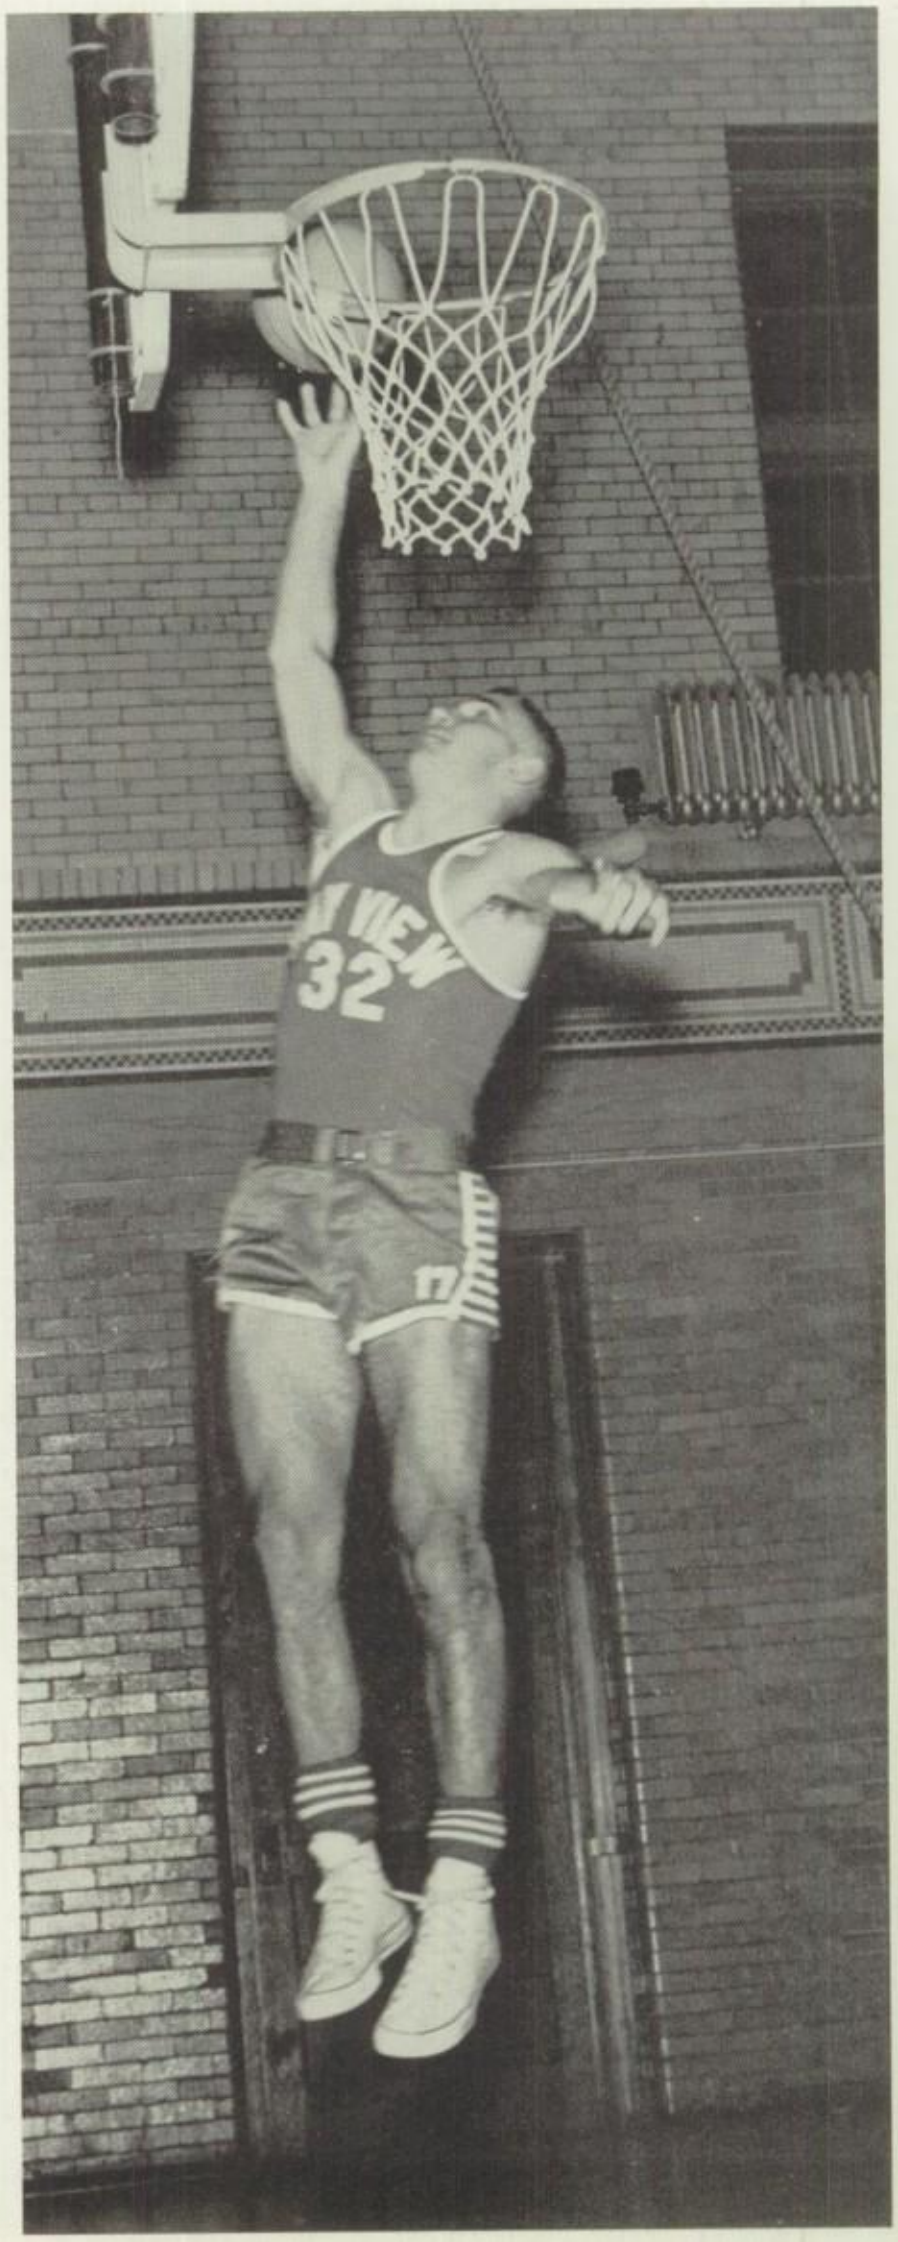
Athletics





The particular magnetism of athletic competition has always attracted participants. Here, in athletics, is taught and reflected the value of teamwork, sportsmanship, physical health, alertness, and sacrifice. Here, also, is found optimism and the individual who demands of himself ultimate effort.

These goals are approached from an expansive field of individual sports and from varying planes of athletic participation, ranging from inter-scholastic competition to personal recreation. The influence of athletics has been incorporated into the living habits and patterns of many, making sports a universal activity and generator of enthusiasm and spirit.

REDCATS SNAP INTO ACTION

REDCATS Tackle

Throughout the 1964 season, football again became the reviving element of school spirit and enthusiasm, setting the pace for the sports year. Although the 1964 Redcat football season ended in contrast to what was expected, there was certainly no lack of the excitement, fast action, and fine school spirit characteristic of Bay View.

Even though the Redcats were hampered by a myriad of unfortunate injuries, each week the team rose to the occasion and often proved to be far superior to its opposition. This was no better illustrated than in the victories over the Pioneers of Juneau, 25-7, and the South Cardinals, 33-14. This year's team gained the additional distinction of being one of the two teams to score against the city conference champions, Boys' Tech. Only four points separated the Cats from a .500 season.

Although the season, for the most part, was a contrasting blend of disappointment and elation, it was productive, however, in that Coach Mierzwa discovered new and promising material from the junior squad, which he will be counting on heavily next year.

Homecoming Reigns As Royal Event

This year Bay View's homecoming was better than ever. On Friday the corridors and study halls hummed with plans for the big weekend.

Then it all began, the cries of the cheerleaders and the rousing strains of the band. Soon the pep rally was underway; the auditorium was filled with exuberant students cheering at the top of their lungs.

When Saturday arrived, sunny and warm, we were set to "pulverize Pulaski." S.G.A. sponsored a car parade that made our spirits soar even higher. With colorful streamers and honking horns, more than sixty decorated cars paraded proudly to Pulaski stadium.

Although we lost the game, the dance, Pigskin Pair-Off, was a success. Spirits undampened, more than five hundred persons danced in the gym, decorated in our traditional red and black. When the band played the final strains of the last dance, we all knew that this weekend was one to be long remembered.

CROSS COUNTRY Sets Winning Pace

Cross country at Bay View has long been regarded as one of our most outstanding sports. This season's record can testify to that. Setting a pattern for future victories, the first meet of the season found the Redcats victorious over the Marshall Eagles. In their second meet of the season, the Redcats scored a 22-34 victory over North Division. The Mattheimen then went on to trample West, 15-55, with all eight Bay View harriers finishing before the first West runner. Later the Cats took on Pulaski, South Division, Juneau, and Tech for the South Side Championship, and emerged with a first place. After losing one meet to the city champs, Lincoln, the harriers lengthened their stride to take a sixth place in the Midwest Meet at Janesville. The Cross Country team finished an enviable season with a fourth place in the State Sectionals held at Humboldt Park, and a second in city competition.

BUCKETMEN Encounter Strong Opposition

The Redcat courtmen, finding themselves in the midst of a demanding schedule and stiff competition, had their share of disappointment this year; but in spite of this, the team gave their all, providing a spirited game whenever they took to the courts. Many close contests marked this year's season and the margin of victory or defeat was frequently two or three points.

The first of our heart-breaking losses was a three-point verdict at the hands of the South Cardinals. A basket in the last seven seconds downed the Cats in the Juneau game; and, fighting an uphill battle against time, the team dropped a two-point decision to Marshall. The bucketmen shamed Tech 78-50 and overcame highly-touted West Division by a score of 59-53.

Coach Koerner has an eye to the future as he will lose only three from his entire varsity crew: Don Laatsch, Jerry Larson, and Bob Anderson. In addition to the large crop of returning lettermen, next season's varsity will be aided by a talented group of sophomores who compiled a 9-7 record under Coach Plautz, completing his first season at Bay View.

Bay View's wrestling team, begun in 1957, has, in a few years, attained a very enviable record. Encouraged by early victories, this year's matmen moved into a five-way tie for fourth place, the finest record attained thus far at Bay View. Under the capable coaching of Mr. Buehler and Mr. Zane, in their first year as coaches of Bay View's wrestlers, the team acquired a victory in eight out of twelve matches.

The team's first meet against a city opponent was Riverside, last year's city champs, in which the Redcats won an impressive victory, 29-21. The Cats then went on to beat last year's second place team, King, 24-22. Although the Matmen had a midyear slump, they came on strong to beat North, Lincoln, and Juneau in the last three meets of the season.

GIRLS' ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

One of the school's more active organizations is the Girls' Athletic Association. It serves to extend Bay View's physical fitness program by such varied activities as apparatus, tumbling, archery, bowling, cheerleading, modern dance, volleyball, basketball, softball, and swim. The girls not only participate in these activities, but they also organize and operate them through the G.A.A. Council, composed of one girl from each grade level. Working with leaders of the various groups and the girls themselves, this council endeavors to promote the principles of co-operation and fair play.

School Life

School life constitutes an important part of total community living for many young people today. In this age of opportunity, school life provides an expansive outlet for creative energy and social ambition. In congenial atmosphere and situations, in the company of friends, and in touch with energetic school spirit, the student realizes apt opportunity for maturity and happiness.

Whatever patterns we may discover in school life, we can be sure they will reflect the warmth, friendship, and spirit of the people who contribute to it. The many aspects of school life reflect the personality of the individual and are as boundless as the limits of human initiative.

Operating within the functional systems of a modern educational institution, the homeroom constitutes a basic element in the intellectual development and social progress of the student. Its primary function is to assist the student in attaining maximum benefit from his educational opportunities and in constructively guiding his successful integration into the community.

Today the homeroom unit is aided by IBM electronic data processing. The intricacies of machine program planning and scheduling follow definite patterns of operation and procedure, all of which inevitably result in increased administrative efficiency.

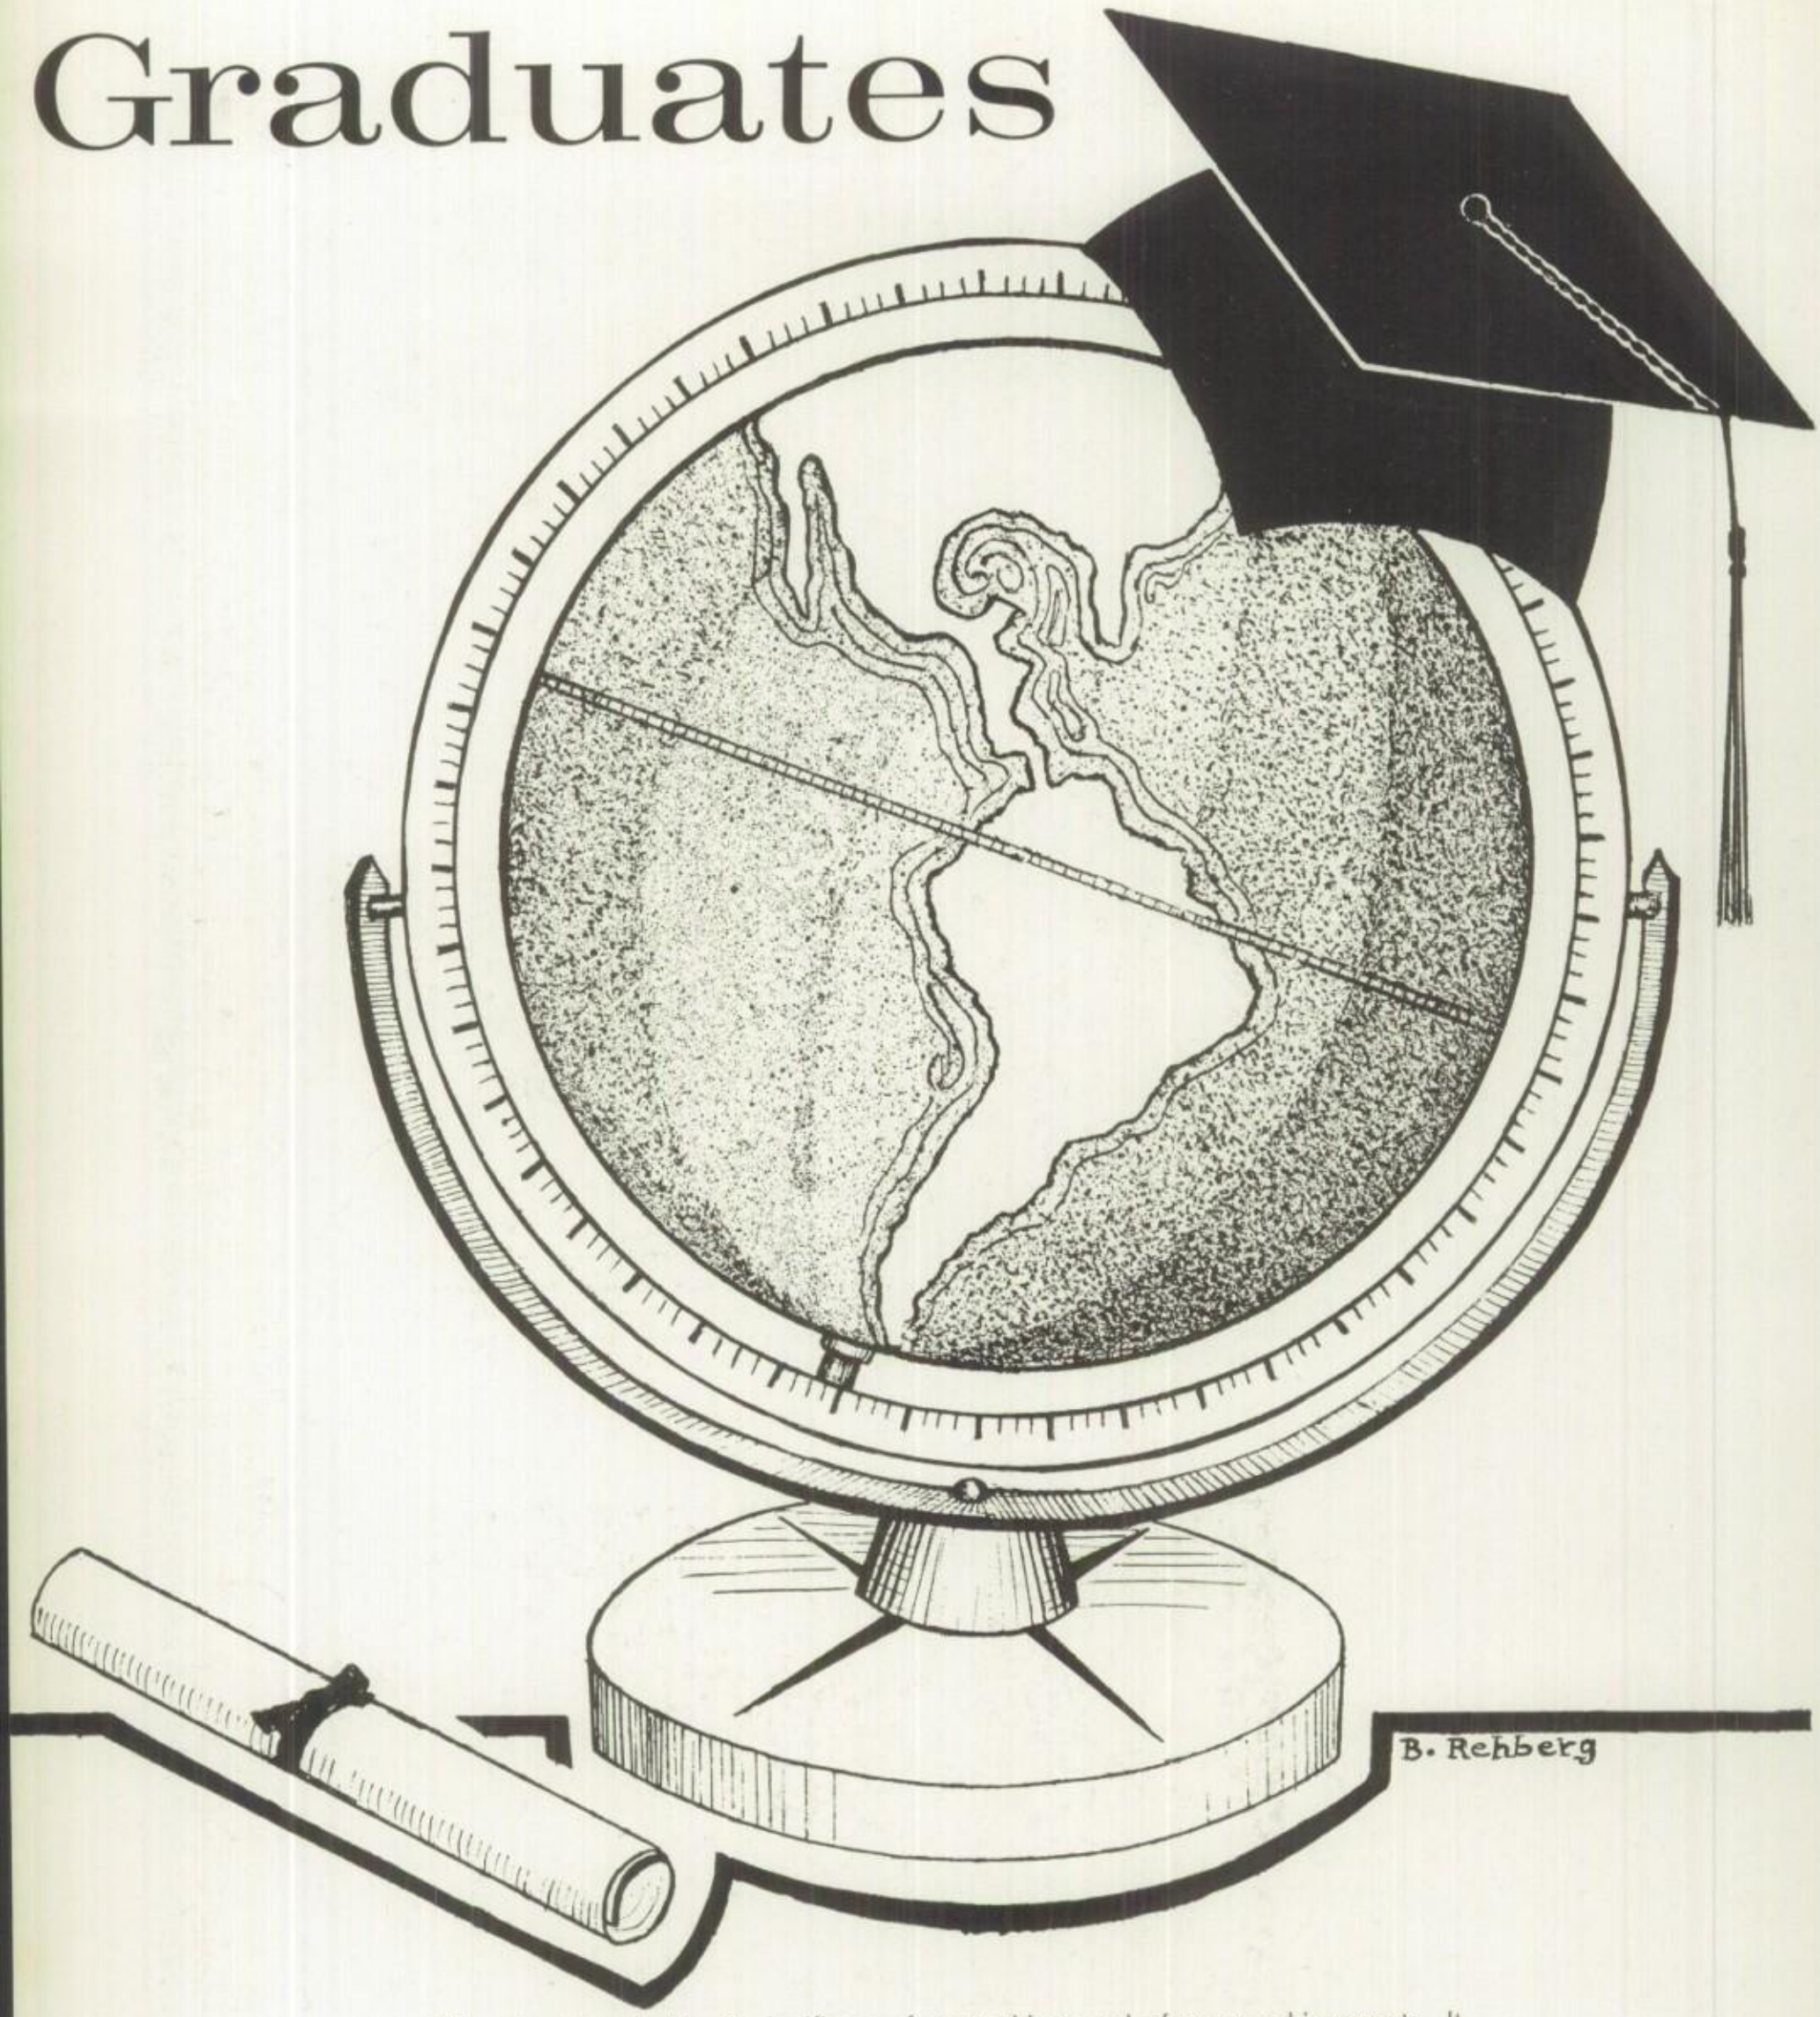
Graduates



High school graduation is significant of many things and of many achievements. It represents years of academic work and social maturity. A diploma is the tangible token of individual endeavor which has been fostered by parent-teacher concern. Although valueless in itself, it is the key by which many doors of the future can be opened.

The senior has graduated into independence, bringing himself to the threshold of inestimable opportunity and responsibility. The patterns he has formed for himself — of moral conviction, of tradition, and of daily routine living — begin now to prove their worth. He is challenged and invited to live a life of integrity and value, satisfaction and success.

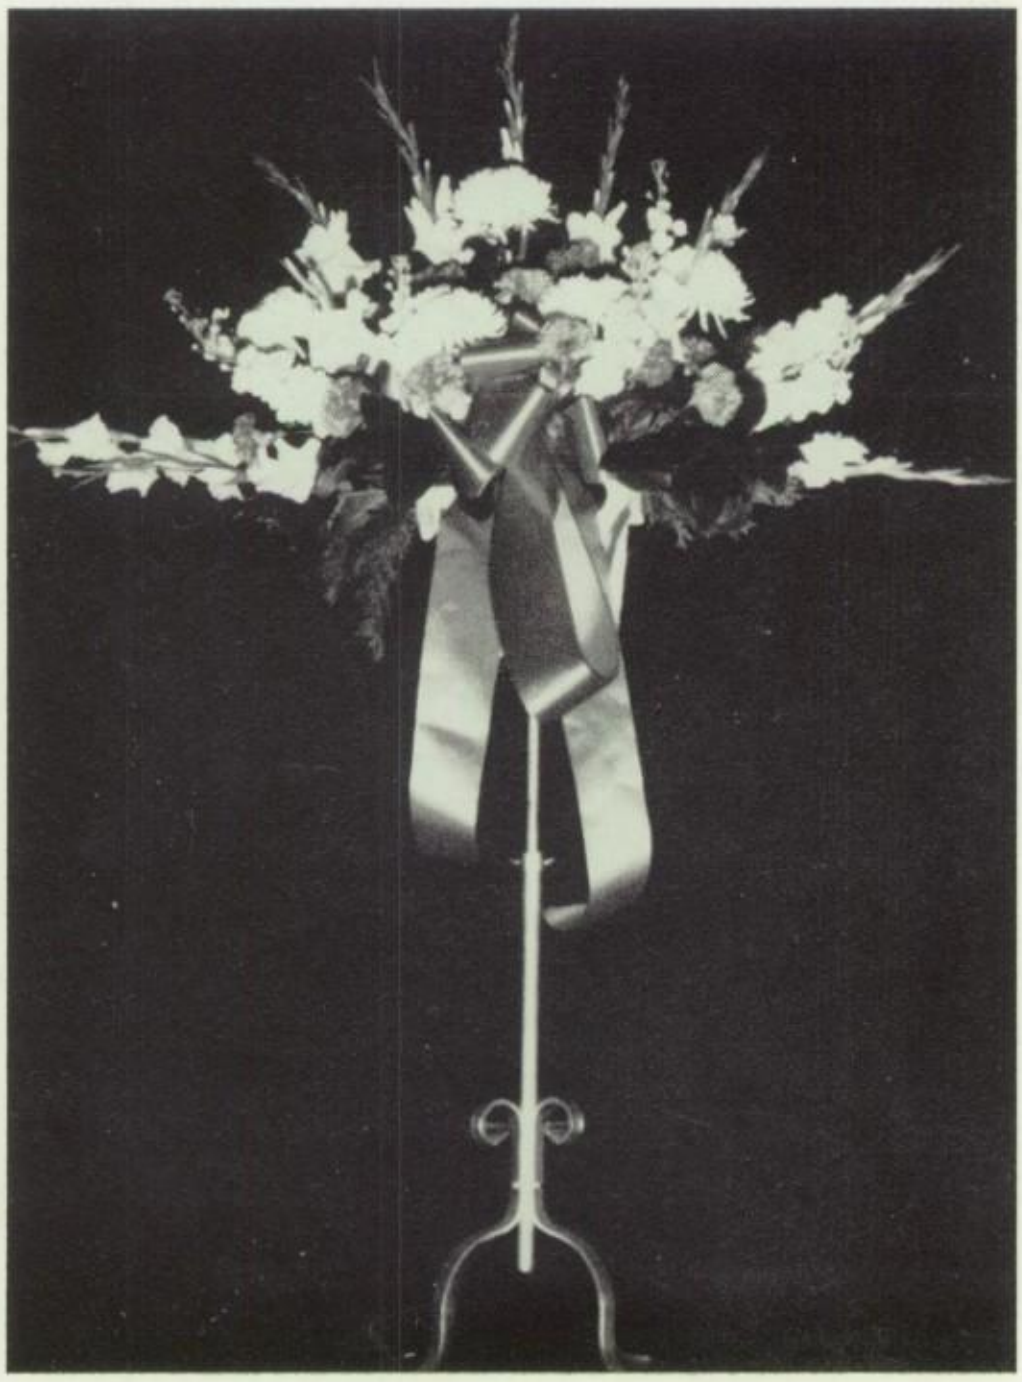
ALMA H. SCHOOFS

In Memory Of Mrs. Alma Schoofs



Mrs. Alma Schoofs was a member of the Foreign Language Department, but she was more than that—she was an essential part of many activities to which she always gave freely of her knowledge and experience. She taught Latin to thousands of young people during her years at Bay View, but she was more than their Latin teacher—she was their personal friend, one who made every effort to know each one well and to give help whenever it was needed, whether for school work or personal problems. Not only was she a favorite teacher for many during their high school years, but she was remembered by her students long after they graduated. Mrs. Schoofs was loved by students and faculty alike for her unfailing kindness and generosity, for being the fine person that she was; she will always hold a special place in the hearts of all who knew her.

To the teachers and students of Bay View High School, Mrs. Alma Schoofs has left a legacy of dediction to the teaching profession.

An end

or a beginning?

There was a time when a high school diploma could be considered an end — sufficient education for the job ahead. But no more. Not in these days of ever-advancing technology and intense individual competition. Now, whether you're planning on a white-collar or blue-collar job, the requirements are much the same — more knowledge, more skills, more education. And that means study beyond high school.

The decision is yours. Make it carefully, for it will probably be the most important one you'll ever make. We at Allis-Chalmers hope it will be for further study. Deeply involved in space-age technology ourselves, we know first-hand the crucial importance of special skills and education. Just as you will, in the future—when it counts.

HE'S GETTING AN
$18,000 GRADUATION GIFT

It's the biggest day in his life so far. Today, the school is giving him that long-sought diploma; Mom and Dad bought him a 17-jewel watch. American industry has a "gift" ready for him, too . . . a brand-new job that cost $18,000 to create.

Sounds remarkable, doesn't it? Yet, $18,000 is the average bill for providing just one new job in industry today. It's the cost of a long list of "capital goods" – like buildings, tools, and equipment. And industry has to provide these things before even one new person can be hired.

Where does the money come from to pay for all these new jobs? Well, a lot of it comes right from the business itself – for example, from profit reinvested in the company. Other dollars come from shareholders who invest their money with the hope of making a profit – and part of the money is borrowed, to be paid back later out of profit.

So, profit is the key to business growth. It's the incentive that motivates people to risk their savings, develop a superior product, provide a better service. And it helps create the jobs that will be waiting on graduation day.
